Camper/Parent Behavior Contract

I understand that MYDA and its partners expect the following behaviors while at camp:

- Camper will stay on the camp property/at camp activity location during the camping session.
- Camper will not intentionally injure or endanger self or any other person either physically or emotionally (this includes intentionally keeping blood glucose level extremely high or low).
- Camper will respect the environment, Camp, property of Camp, and personal property of others (the camper's family will be responsible for intentional damages caused).
- Camper will not use bad/inappropriate language.
- Camper will not engage in any sexual contact or use language of a sexual nature.
- Camper will not use or bring tobacco products, drugs, alcohol, or weapons.
- Camper will demonstrate respect for staff and fellow campers at all times.
- Camper will not engage in teasing, harassment, or ethnic/racial/religious/political slander of any person or group.

If the camper chooses to be with someone breaking any of the above rules, the camper may also be issued consequences.

Campers and families will treat all campers, families, and staff before, during, and after Camp with respect. This means that families and campers will not participate in any interaction or communication, including phone, online, email, instant messaging, or text messaging of a threatening, bullying, or inappropriate nature prior to, during, or after camp.

If the campers and families do not follow these rules and expectations, consequences may include but are not limited to:

- Dismissal from Camp.
- Parent/guardian must come to Camp to pick the camper up.
- Loss of the privilege of returning to Camp in the future.
- Legal consequences as appropriate to actions.

I have read and agree to the rules and expectations, have discussed them with my child, and will help enforce them.
